

Focus Pods

The gadget that play a playlist but limits certain interactions to maximise focus

Problem & Solution

The Problem

Listening to music is way to distracting. When you listen you often switch songs, get distracted to notifications and play rap music you said you were trying to cut out.

The Solution

A pod for music that allows you to set settings tailored to focus such as; Anti skip, no screen, standardised playlist.

How this would add value to the world.

In a society that is rapidly loosing focus it is more crucial than ever to stay concentrated. This would be extremely useful to those who like to listen to music but dislike that feeling of being distracted and the constant mobile pick ups.

How this would work.

The product would be no bigger than a credit card and no deeper than a centimeter therefore 8.56cm x 5.398cm x 1cm and would have smoothed out edges.

IDK about the electronics but we can make it happen.
